

New Energy Complete Switchgear Distribution Box

Overview

HA Series New Energy Distribution Box is a professional outdoor electrical breaker box, specially designed for new energy scenarios. Jinhand Electrical, founded in 2009, is a comprehensive modern science and technology enterprise integrating power equipment resource development, manufacturing, domestic electrical equipment sales and import and export power equipment agency. As an experienced China manufacturer, supplier and factory, Jinhand Electrical designs and produces reliable New Energy Power Distribution Switchgear. Scope of Application □ High-Voltage PV Grid-Connection Switchgear is used at the grid connection points of large-scale or distributed PV systems. It acts as the central unit between the step-up transformer's high-voltage output (typically 10kV-36kV) and the public grid, managing power transfer.
